Eastside AUTO SERVICE

Letter from Christian

Aktive Motors has always been the heart and soul of my life. My aim has been to provide exceptional customer service and to uphold the trust that our customers put into my team. With my new career change, it was extremely important to me that I made sure I found someone that had the same standards and values to take care of our SAAB family.

I carefully set out on a mission to find another like-minded mechanic that services his customers the way we have looked after our community and that falls in line with our ideals and culture. I had interviewed quite a lot of mechanics and shops before I was referred to Glenn Colling at Eastside Auto Service in Oakville.

Everything clicked when I met with Glenn and I was immediately drawn to his family values and level of character. Glenn and his wife Lisa have been foster parents for over 10 years to 31 children, many of whom have special needs. It is these types of family values that are evident in his everyday dealings with clients that assured me you will be in good hands with Glenn and the entire Eastside team.

After meeting with him many times, I knew that Glenn and his team would take very good care of our "Saab Family" and preserve the values and high-standards that we worked so hard to instil.

As excited as I have been towards this new career change, I could not move forward in good conscience without making sure I had the right fit for my customers and their needs moving forward. You have trusted my team to care for you over the years, and it's the same trust that I have in Glenn and his team to care for you now.

The entire Aktive Motors community will always be held near and dear to me. Until our paths cross again, I wish every one of you all the best for the future. From the bottom of my heart I cannot thank you enough for all of the trust and support you have placed in Aktive Motors over the years.

Sincerely,

Christian Skovbjerg
